

Prize for encouraging gender equality in Esch

The municipality of Esch has decided to introduce a 'Prize for encouraging gender equality in Esch' for the year 2025, to reward an association or group of people who are committed, through one-off activities and/or medium- and long-term projects, to promoting gender equality in Esch.

Gender equality can be defined as the equal treatment of all people, regardless of their gender identity, gender expression or sexual orientation. This equality is expressed in all areas of life, such as access to education, the labour market, culture, living together, etc. (except in the field of sport).

The Prize rewards the efforts of associations involved in activities to inform, raise awareness and promote gender equality, whether aimed at a target group (girls/women, boys/men, the LGBTIQ+ community) or the general public. The prize, endowed with a special grant of €3,500, will be awarded at an official ceremony in March 2025 at Esch City Town Hall.

Enclosed you will find the rules and regulations, together with the questionnaire which you are asked to complete and return by 1 February 2025 to the following address: egalitedeschances@villeesch.lu Should you require any further information, please contact the Equal Opportunities Department.
